

RAG System Documentation

This PDF document contains reference guide for Retrieval-Augmented Generation.

Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) is a technique that combines retrieval and generation.

It leverages external knowledge sources to improve LLM generation accuracy and relevance.

Our loader module parses this PDF cleanly to feed it to downstream processes.

Verify that page-by-page text extraction works and is formatted correctly.